DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In response to the office action from 1/18/2006, the applicant has submitted an amendment, filed 3/16/2006, incorporating previously allowed subject matter into independent claim 1. As a result of such claim amendments, claims 1, 6-10, and 12-17 are allowable over the prior art of record.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Joseph Kelly (Reg. No. 34,847) on 3/28/2006.

3. The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, Line 10 change "after performing the linguistic analysis" to --after performing the syntactic analysis--.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 6-10, and 12-17 are allowable over the prior art of record.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to Claim 1, the prior art of record fails to explicitly teach or fairly suggest either individually or in combination, a method for performing text compression that subjects each portion of a text message to multiple compression rules in a predetermined order based on an initial syntactic analysis, which utilizes a tree having nodes representing multiple and single word portions of an input text, for compression selection by a user, wherein each text compression contains an identifier indicative of the utilized compression rule. Although Marcu et al (U.S. Patent Publication: 2002/0046018) teaches the use of a parse tree in text compression (Paragraphs 176-195), Marcu fails to teach that the tree comprises nodes representing multiple and single word portions in the input text and the examination of those nodes for the application of multiple compression rules.

The dependent claims further limit an allowed independent claim, and thus, are also allowable over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
